

The Missouri Park and Recreation Association along with the Kansas Recreation and Park Association have joined forces to present the 11th annual

Empowering Leaders, Engaging Employees, and Elevating Performance

October 25-26, 2023 • Liberty Community Center

In today's highly competitive business market, we know parks and recreation departments are vying for top talent while facing budget constraints that hinder your ability to acquire the necessary resources. Unfortunately, many employees tend to drift away long before giving formal notice and it's been widely acknowledged that people don't quit organizations, they quit managers.

Astonishingly, studies reveal that only 1 in 4 employees strongly agree with feeling valued and connected at work. However, you can take decisive action to reel your personnel back in. Build a robust and future-ready workforce that can effectively leverage its capabilities, parks and recreation leaders are invited to embrace a human-centered approach to leadership, business operations, networking, and recruitment at this year's Executive Forum.

Join us October 25-26 in Liberty, MO to embark on a journey of discovery, delving into strategic thinking, ways to stop the "circle of habit", downfalls of multitasking, ways to overcome status quo mindsets, and explore insights from real-world case studies. Learn how to "NETWORK SMARTER" using 21st-century recruiting and connection techniques (traditional and LinkedIn best practices shared).

In addition, you will learn about optimizing business processes to enable you to achieve more with less. You will engage in various hands-on exercises to help shift perspective, support positive employee experiences, and concurrently extend brand awareness. By fostering a workplace culture that prioritizes its people and challenges the norm, parks and recreation departments can break free from stagnant routines and create environments that become a workplace of choice for all generations.
